Expand your customer base and grow revenue

As biotech and pharmaceutical companies increasingly turn to CRO services, BioPharm Insight provides the information, tools, and premium custom service you need to efficiently expand your customer base and grow revenue.

We specialize in helping CROs grow revenues by providing detailed information and intelligence on:

- 24,000+ biotech and pharmaceutical companies
- 36,000+ drugs under development
- 200,000+ industry contacts (includes email & direct phone) so you can easily find & secure new clients, patients, and physicians
- 220,000+ Research & Development contacts - all with email addresses for prospecting to each stage development
- 70,000+ investigator sites with details on current & past studies

200,000 Key Decision-Makers

Full, in-depth analysis on over 200,000 key decision-makers who are actively involved with clinical trials. Get the details on drug program and compliance managers, business development executives, clinicians, regulatory and compliance personnel — spanning R&D, management, and sales and marketing departments. View their email addresses and read their biographies. We also offer the names and contact detail of key opinion leaders who may offer advice on specific drug programs and companies.

220,000 Research Contacts

Complete list of all research contacts at biotech and pharmaceutical companies that have published a scientific article in the last five years. 100% of these contacts have a valid email address. This section of our service is invaluable for prospects interested in early stage development groups.
